A woman with dark hair styled in a bun is the central figure. She wears a strapless, floor-length gown. The upper portion is a rich red fabric with a gathered bodice and a wide, horizontal band of intricate white lace. The lower portion of the gown is also white lace, featuring a scalloped hem. She is adorned with a multi-strand necklace of pearls and diamonds, a matching bracelet, and dark eye makeup. She stands to the left of a plush, red, tufted chair with a high back and ornate, silver-colored legs. Her right hand rests on the chair's backrest, and her left hand is placed on her hip. The background is a mottled, blue-grey wall with a painterly texture. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the textures of the fabric and the woman's features.

A fashion advertisement featuring two women in formal gowns. The woman on the left is wearing a dark, strapless gown with intricate floral embroidery and a large, voluminous red tulle skirt. The woman on the right is wearing a black strapless gown with a beaded bodice and a large, voluminous black tulle skirt. Both women are sitting on a red tufted sofa against a blue, textured background. The text in the upper right corner describes the variety of color options for wedding gowns.

Your bridal gown should reflect your unique sense of style. Today's Bride is no longer limited to varying shades of white. Mia Solano offers a myriad of color options that include adding color trim that matches the wedding party, or making a bolder statement in a Ruby taffeta gown with silver embellishments.
